

I am strongly opposed to deregulation re. ownership of media. This country does not need media monopoly by a few corporate giants. A deregulation, which would allow a significantly larger share of ownership by a single company, threatens our ability to receive wide and divergent opinions in the media. In a democracy such as ours, this will erode the level of awareness of an "informed" electorate. It also threatens to limit access to local news information, when large "national" corporations control local programing. I urge you not to make any rule changes in favor of deregulation on June 2nd.
